

MAX/MIN-31 50 ml

This formula is designed to help prevent mineral deficiency (but as well can help to assimilate).

Biochemic Therapeutics are based on the principle that the integrity, structure and function of the body's tissues and organs are dependent on necessary quantities of cell salts. The Biochemic System of Medicine recognizes the importance of the inorganic constituents of cells in the body. These "cell salts" are fundamental functioning parts of each individual cell and of the body as a whole. It is the theory of this health system that, if a deficiency should occur in one or more of the tissue salts of the body, a form of diseased state would occur in the body. Every abnormal condition in the body is a result of a lack of some inorganic cellular salt. Health and energy can be maintained as long as all the cellular tissue salts in the body are properly maintained.

Tissue salts are a group of minerals that should be present in the body for it to function optimally. But unhealthy lifestyles often deplete our reserves, leading to illness. Tissue salts, also known as "cell salts" or "biochemistry salts", are the same minerals that are found in rocks and in soil.

The body contains a minimum of 12 essential mineral salts.

It used to be that depleted minerals in our system could be replenished through normal nutrition, but due to much of our soil becoming nutrient deprived, our crops being sprayed with toxins and chemicals, our food is picked before its time, the nutrient and enzyme density of fresh food decreases significantly.

We also lose minerals through stress, fast lifestyles, exercise, bad nutrition, electro-pollution (i.e., cell phones, microwaves, computers), environmental pollution and exposure to heavy metals such as amalgam dental fillings, lead, aluminium, contaminated water, etc.

If there are depleted minerals within our bodies, this will cause a disruption in our homeostasis which often results in disease. (Homeostasis is the ability to maintain internal stability – of which the endocrine and nervous systems and many organs are essential). We always discuss how our body works in a “wholistic” manner. Whole: Every internal body system and organ, hormones, glands and cells work together relying on each other to have a healthy functioning system.

Problems that result from mineral deficiencies first start to manifest on a physical level. Tissue salts are responsible for proper cell function. If they are not sufficiently available, the organisms must reduce this function to a minimum. Sometimes when the deficiencies are severe, body processes will not be working right, if at all.

Tissue salts are completely harmless as they are non-organic substances that are naturally produced by the body. They are diluted to penetrate the orifices, or openings, of the cell wall for effective absorption. There are no known side effects and overdose cannot occur because biochemical tissue salts are only replacing what the body is lacking, thus any excess amount will naturally be excreted. Tissue salts are very safe, they can also be given to persons of any age, including pregnant women, infants, and even animals.

When cravings occur, it's because we are depleted in minerals. Tissues salts are excellent because they have a regulating effect we need more of certain salts if we are craving and even refusing a particular food. An example – if you're craving chocolate, you're deficient in magnesium as well as other minerals on a cellular level.

The benefits of all 12 tissue salts in this tonic is valuable in the recuperation process of any debilitating diseases and even recovery. Your entire system will be built up by being provided the necessary tissue and cellular nutrition. This in turn improves resistance to diseases and assist with better utilization and assimilation of food.
